The Fully Distributed Solution

What is the AMP?

The Adaptive Media Platform or AMP, from enepath, is the latest solution from one of the technology leaders in the provision of voice to the Trading Room - it is significantly different in the ways it ensures the reliability, speed and quality of Voice connectivity to the Trader.

A system that allows you to use every single dollar you spend - finally

- More cost effective at lower numbers of positions – Little need for central equipment
- Massively scalable – no size limit to implementations, moves, adds or changes
- Negates distance costs / limits – Grow locally or globally as you need, when you need

More reliable than any other solution – every position has its own ‘system’ capability

- The system gets more reliable as you grow – all Turrets work together as one
- Easy to plan – little effort to deploy quickly and re-use resource as you need
- Ends need for complex BCP solutions – setup a backup Turrets in minutes

The world’s first intelligent Trading Solution – less management for you

- Delivers an automatic backup to every single connection – no management effort
- Constantly checks for quality - delivers the best connection to the Trader
- Resource (i.e. cost) used automatically by the system – in the most effective way

Greater security than any other Trading solution – to a new level

- Every Turret & every user has security – automatically or system manager controlled
- All system messages can be encrypted
- All calls can be encrypted as final layer of security – as you require

The difference

The Adaptive Media Platform or AMP, from enepath, delivers a difference to the way you work.

It makes it easy to plan a Voice solution for the Trading Room, quicker to make it a reality and quicker to adapt it once it is in place. The AMP will deliver greater reliability that you are used to, mean that the Traders get the best quality of voice call and that the system will work automatically to be more cost-effective. The AMP grows as you do with no waste on over-specified equipment that you do not need. Email us at admin@enepath.com for more information
